

Call for Mentors & Mentees

- Would you like to be a mentor and give career advice to a student?
- As a student, would you benefit from meeting with a mentor?

The Women in Science Panel developed a Speed Mentoring Program and is looking for mentors and students interested in a 1-o-1 meeting for career advice.

How does it work?

Each mentor will have 10 minutes to discuss career advice with a student. Students will fill a self-assessment inquiry to help us finding the best mentor. Match mentor & mentee will be known before the WIS panel.

Who are you?

MENTORS: Scientists with experience in academia or industry willing to share with students their pathway and give career advice.

STUDENTS: Master, PhD students and Postdocs looking to receive advice for next career steps.

How to apply?

- Send your CV
- Write a short motivation paragraph explaining why you would like to be a mentor or a student enrolling in the program
